Annual Report 2010
Dear Friends and Supporters:

A human crisis is unfolding around us. Families and individuals devastated by job losses, layoffs, and property foreclosures are flooding emergency shelters. The new face of homelessness is a child, a former wage earner or a suburban neighbor.

For the first time since 2007, we are seeing an increase in the number of families and single adults accessing shelter.

The recession has challenged our community’s core belief that no one should be without shelter for even one night. It is especially disheartening that people are waiting out housing crises in extreme living conditions at a time when the shelter system is performing well.

“In the family system, 67% of households found stable housing – double the placements since 1995.
“The women’s system achieved its highest level of successful housing outcomes, compared to the previous evaluation periods.”

We must plan to open our doors to people who never thought they would need us; people struggling to make ends meet under the worst economic conditions in a generation.

The answer is not to build more shelters. Instead, our solution is two-fold: increase homelessness prevention and move people into stable housing more quickly.

While more resources are needed to continue implementing targeted solutions that are working, we thank those who have made ending homelessness a top priority. The Community Shelter Board is funded by the City of Columbus, the Franklin County Board of Commissioners, the United Way of Central Ohio, The Columbus Foundation, Nationwide, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, the State of Ohio, and other public and private donors.

We encourage you to read the stories in this report about the programs and services that keep our community focused on ending homelessness. By joining and continuing to support our efforts, you will help to restore balance and rebuild the lives of our dispirited neighbors.

Regards,

Patricia P. Cash

Community Shelter Board
WHO WE ARE

The Community Shelter Board, established in 1986, is a public-private partnership that creates collaborations, innovates solutions and invests in quality programs in order to end homelessness in Columbus and Franklin County. The Community Shelter Board allocates over $13 million annually to support homeless programs and services. Last year, these programs served more than 8,000 individuals. The Community Shelter Board is funded by the City of Columbus, the Franklin County Board of Commissioners, the United Way of Central Ohio, The Columbus Foundation, Nationwide, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, the State of Ohio and other public and private donors. CSB is governed by a 20-member Board of Trustees appointed by founding members.

OUR APPROACH

As a single coordinating body, CSB brings together extensive and diverse organizations in Franklin County to collaborate and work together as a system rather than as a fragmented set of resources. CSB addresses homelessness through our broad based community plan called Rebuilding Lives. The Rebuilding Lives plan is a comprehensive and interrelated set of strategies to decrease the number of people who experience homelessness. The strategies are organized into four broad goals: access, crisis response, transition, and advocacy.

“The Community Shelter Board is helping men, women, and sadly in some cases, entire families move to stable housing opportunities. The Rebuilding Lives Plan and its initiatives are national models with a proven track record of helping the most vulnerable in society. The Community Shelter Board is an asset to Columbus and this City Council looks forward to helping them advance their mission for years to come. When we invest in the Community Shelter Board, we are investing in a stronger Columbus.”

— Michael C. Mentel, President, Columbus City Council
Exceptional Leadership Continues at Community Shelter Board

In April 2010, Michelle Heritage Ward was selected the new Executive Director of the Community Shelter Board.

Michelle continues exceptional leadership of CSB through her extensive experience in the non-profit sector, including her work as President/CEO of St. Vincent Family Center from 2001 to 2010, CEO of The Prevention Council of Central Ohio, the Director of Stevens House, Director of Volunteers of America Family Shelter, and Intake Supervisor of Fairfield County Children’s Services. In addition to the mental health system, Michelle’s experience includes working in the alcohol and drug, homeless and children’s protective systems.

Just this past summer, Michelle continued the effort to lead CSB as a model for our nation when she met with public and private leaders from Sacramento, Cincinnati, Des Moines and Calgary and Alberta, Canada who visited Columbus to learn more about the CSB model.

And in August, The National Alliance to End Homelessness called Columbus a pioneering community, because of CSB’s work to quickly rehouse families by helping with housing search and landlord negotiation, providing rental assistance, and delivering home-based case management services.

Michelle is ensuring that CSB will be a leader in meeting the Federal Strategic Plan to Prevent and End Homelessness.

The vision of the Federal Plan is centered on the belief that no one should experience homelessness—no one should be without a safe, stable place to call home. The Plan is focused on four key goals:

- Finish the job of ending chronic homelessness in five years;
- Prevent and end homelessness among Veterans in five years;
- Prevent and end homelessness for families, youth, and children in ten years; and
- Set a path to ending all types of homelessness.

Michelle already has provided visible leadership in achieving community-wide homeless services and prevention objectives. She has embraced strategic planning and collaborative efforts, private-sector fundraising and resource development, effective governmental systems, and private-sector relationships.
Preventing Homelessness

“No matter how bad things get; do not give up; things will get better,” explained Eric English, a man who was recently on the brink of homelessness.

Eric once enjoyed a comfortable life, with a career in the construction industry, until the economy went bad and he was diagnosed with cancer. Eric was living with a relative while he was dealing with his cancer, but unfortunately the relative’s home went into foreclosure; and soon Eric did not have a place to live.

Eric is now living in a decent and affordable efficiency apartment on Columbus’ North side, thanks to Gladden Community House and their Single Adult Prevention Program, funded by CSB. Gladden’s Single Adult Prevention Program provides emergency financial assistance and support to people who are at immediate risk of homelessness to help them maintain their housing or acquire new, decent, sustainable housing. Homelessness Prevention and Rapid Re-housing funds are used to serve 10 – 15 households each month.

With assistance from Gladden, Eric was able to cover the financial gap between needing a place to live and the funds he was expected to receive from Social Security because of his disability. “The help I received was essential; and I was able to keep my dignity and not be a burden on others,” said Eric.

“Gladden Community House’s program saved my life. As I fully recover, I want to do volunteer work for Gladden to be able to give something back," Eric said with a smile.

CSB is also funding a prevention program for families at imminent risk of becoming homeless. The Stable Families program is run by Communities in Schools.
Reducing the Need for Emergency Shelter
Centralized Point of Access

“By referring people to the right service at the right time, we are reducing the number of people entering shelter and the number of days someone is in shelter and helping that person end the cycle of homelessness,” said Dave Davis, CSB Director of Programs and Planning. “That opens up a shelter bed for someone in a short-term emergency and reduces the need for overflow services.”

A Centralized Point of Access for homeless single adults was developed through an allocation of funds by the Community Shelter Board from the federal Homelessness Prevention and Rapid Re-Housing Program. The Rebuilding Lives plan, approved by community leaders in 2008, recommended a central access point to improve links to community resources and reduce the need for emergency shelter when other resources are available.

A similar system for families reduced family homelessness by 40 percent. Because of the effectiveness with the family system, the new centralized point of access for single adults was created. With more than 4,800 men and women entering the emergency shelter system each year, the program helps to reduce adult homelessness. It’s a front door to match people quickly and effectively with prevention, shelter, housing and other services, so they can get back on their feet.

Adults who are homeless or on the brink of losing their housing are able to request assistance in person or call a toll-free hotline, 1-888-4SHELTR (1-888-474-3587), 24 hours a day, every day of the year.

“Since leaving shelter, I feel more at peace and less stressed because I am on a new path in life.”

Former Homeless Families Foundation client
Permanent Supportive Housing

“Everyone deserves a second chance. I am glad people had faith in me,” said Nicole Fox, a mother of two small children and a recovering alcoholic and drug addict.

According to Nicole, the lowest point in her life was when she was homeless, pregnant, addicted to crack and alcohol, and she hadn’t seen her daughter in six months. Wanting to be a healthy, sober mother for her daughter and soon-to-be delivered son, Nicole decided to make a break from her addiction and was admitted to Maryhaven, a partner agency of CSB.

After her treatment at Maryhaven, Community Housing Network prevented Nicole from becoming homeless by moving her into an apartment at Southpoint Place. Southpoint Place is a permanent supportive housing community for people disabled by mental illness, chemical dependence, or histories of homelessness. Southpoint offers residents supportive services to enable them to find work, maintain their treatment and recovery, and eventually give back to the community.

“The services, facilities and staff at Southpoint Place are amazing. Living here has helped me to rebuild my life. I may not have the best of everything, but I am a productive member of society,” said Nicole.

“I now have a stable home for my children, Mikila and Jayden, to grow up to be successful,” explained Nicole. “I know what is important now and I will never be homeless again.”

Nicole keeps herself busy by being an involved mother, while working full time at a local restaurant. Nicole has tested the waters about furthering her education by attending college to be a counselor to help others. Nicole said, “The possibilities are endless.”

Nicole volunteers whenever possible to speak to women about making a commitment to a sober, healthy lifestyle; a lifestyle for which Nicole is grateful every day.

During 2010, 75 additional Re-building Lives units were opened at the Commons at Buckingham and 30 units were opened as part of the Southeast, Inc. Scattered Site expansion.
Federal Funds Support Innovative Homelessness Prevention

Homelessness Prevention and Rapid Re-Housing Program (HPRP)

Under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (Recovery Act), HUD has allocated $1.5 billion to local and state governments for homelessness prevention. During 2010, 2011, and 2012, Columbus is to receive $2,642,649 and Franklin County will receive $746,920. The City and County have partnered with the Community Shelter Board in making these one-time funds available for prevention and rapid re-housing programs. CSB also received a formula allocation from the State of Ohio funds for our community, in the amount of $1,039,400.

I recently visited the YWCA Family Center and was astonished to learn that the Family Center provides emergency shelter to 1,300 children. I met a few of them that day. They were doing what all kids everywhere do ... having fun, making a mess, and teasing their peers. The atmosphere at the Family Center is so warm and nurturing that you can almost forget that these children have suffered severe trauma. Each little girl and boy has lost a house, early school ties, and neighborhood buddies. I left the YWCA Family Center grateful for the dedication of its volunteers and staff... and grateful for the resiliency of children. When we support the Community Shelter Board, we give little boys and girls, and our brothers and sisters more than a house...we give them hope ... and the chance to heal.

Local priorities for these funds are:
• Prevent as many people as possible from entering shelter.

• Maintain the momentum of the community’s Rebuilding Lives Plan to end homelessness and maintain critical services.

Projects for HPRP funds include:
Centralized Point of Access
Rapid Re-Housing for single adults
Prevention for mental health populations
Prevention for single adults
Access to financial assistance for quick exit from shelter

A local Steering Committee including membership by City, County, and Community Shelter Board officials provides oversight of all HPRP activities. Funding allocations are recommended by the Steering Committee and considered by the Rebuilding Lives Funder Collaborative and the CSB Board of Trustees.
Helping Gain Housing Stability

Rapid Re-housing

Housing stability is the goal of Rapid Re-housing Programs, which provides temporary financial assistance and services to people who are already homeless to help them quickly move into housing. “Moving people out of shelter and into housing as quickly as possible makes sense. A stable housing solution is the best investment we can make,” said Michelle Heritage Ward, Executive Director of the Community Shelter Board.

Case management is essential to the success of the rapid re-housing effort. Case managers help with job searches, budgeting and linkages to other community resources to help individuals move from homelessness to stability.

Short-term rental and utility assistance is provided when necessary. Although rental assistance is available for up to a three month period, case management services may be provided for up to 6 months.

When serving people with significant disabilities or with very limited income capacity, Rapid Re-housing programs coordinate with other community resources to ensure that participants are linked to ongoing assistance, such as housing vouchers, intensive case management, or assertive community treatment.

Federal stimulus dollars from the Homelessness Prevention and Rapid Re-Housing Program were allocated by CSB to provide these programs over a two year period starting in November 2010.

The Community Shelter Board’s partner agencies, Volunteers of America of Greater Ohio and Community Housing Network are delivering the new rapid re-housing program for single adults.

In addition, The Salvation Army in Central Ohio, Volunteers of America of Greater Ohio, and Homeless Families Foundation provide rapid re-housing services for families experiencing homelessness.

More than 1200 households received financial assistance from CSB to stabilize housing, at exit from emergency shelter.

| Persons at risk of becoming homeless have access to better organized, coordinated, and leveraged emergency aid to help prevent homelessness. | • United Way of Central Ohio has committed funding for the project planning.
• The planning committee met several times and discussed what services to coordinate, the agencies with whom to partner and how to best create access to services.
• The team discussed the need for a common intake and assessment form and a “no wrong door” approach to access services.
• Stimulus funding (HPRP) has been set aside to cover the pilot development. In September 2010, the planning committee recommended the reallocation of these funds to CSB’s homelessness prevention program due to increased demand for emergency assistance and the need for more time to fully develop this pilot.
• The planning committee will continue its work in developing a coordinated emergency aid system. |

• Pilot #2, supportive housing providers – Maryhaven Commons at Chantry, YMCA 40 W Long Street and YWCA Wings - are participating in Pilot #2, the Move-Up Pilot, currently in implementation phase. The pilot helps tenants in supportive housing that are ready to move to more independent housing.
• Pilot #3, NCR Buckingham, with 100 units of supportive housing opened in the summer of 2010. USHS leased-up the project by the end of September 2010. A Client Vulnerability Assessment was piloted with this project with the intent to test a better way to prioritize the most in need for housing.
• USHS continues to manage vacancies at all the new supportive housing projects launched since 2008 and is offering this service to existing projects as well.
• USHS released a Client Documentation Toolkit for the homeless providers. The tool can be used to improve homeless individuals’ access to housing and public benefits. The Client Documentation Toolkit can be found at www.csb.org. |

“As the most far-reaching and ambitious plan to end homelessness in our history, this plan will both strengthen existing programs and forge new partnerships. Working together with Congress, state and local officials, faith-based and community organizations, and business and philanthropic leaders across our country, we will harness public and private resources to build on the innovations that have been demonstrated at the local level nationwide. No one should be without a safe, stable place to call home and today we unveil a plan that will put our nation on the path toward ending all types of homelessness.”

— Shaun Donovan, HUD Secretary and United States Interagency Council on Homelessness Chair
On the release of Opening Doors: Federal Strategic Plan to Prevent and End Homelessness
Permanent Supportive housing served 1189 individuals in 2010.

Strategy: Provide Rent Subsidies for Single Adults
Develop longer-term rent subsidies for homeless single adults to meet annual need.

Outcome
Fewer adults experience long-term homelessness – more units are available, easier access to affordable housing for prospective tenants.

Progress
- A Rapid Re-Housing pilot program was implemented in November 2010, using stimulus funding (HPRP).
- Volunteers of America of Greater Ohio in collaboration with Community Housing Network is implementing the pilot.
- The goal is to rapidly re-house 200 homeless single adults living in emergency shelters or on the street, over approximately 20 months of funding availability. Each individual will be provided with up to 6 months of rental subsidy and associated case management services.

Strategy: Tier II Family Shelter Conversion
Transition Tier II shelter from a fixed unit approach to a flexible supply of housing with interim supports.

Outcome
Homeless families experience greater housing success and their children are more stable.

Progress
- The strategy is being piloted by Homeless Families Foundation and Volunteers of America of Greater Ohio.
- At full implementation, the entire inventory of the community’s Tier II emergency shelter units for families will be converted to a rapid re-housing inventory. The transition will improve the stability of families exiting homelessness.
- Currently Homeless Families Foundation has 8 units out of their 46 unit capacity and Volunteers of America of Greater Ohio has 18 units out of their 24 unit capacity converted into this rapid re-housing model.
- CSB expects that the entire inventory of the Tier II shelter units will be converted to the rapid re-housing model by the end of calendar year 2011.

NOTES IN FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Financial Statement Presentation
Unrestricted net assets are neither permanently nor temporarily restricted by donor-imposed stipulations and are available for use in the Community Shelter Board’s (CSB) ongoing operations. Temporarily restricted net assets are limited to use by donor-imposed stipulations that either expire by the passage of time or can be fulfilled and removed by action of the Board of Trustees pursuant to those stipulations. Contributions are recognized as revenue in the period the commitment or payment is first received. Conditional contributions are not recognized until the conditions are substantially met.

Funds Held by The Columbus Foundation, Inc.
The Community Shelter Board is required, by Statement of Financial Accounting Standard No. 136, to recognize assets that are held by another organization on CSB’s behalf. CSB has transferred assets to a fund held at The Columbus Foundation. These assets are included in CSB’s financial statements at their fair value.

For a copy of the full audited financial statements, contact Chris Kloss, development and communications administrator, 614.221.9195, Ext. 113.

Major funders of the Community Shelter Board include the City of Columbus, The Columbus Foundation, the Franklin County Board of Commissioners, Nationwide, the State of Ohio, and the United Way of Central Ohio.

CSB is a responsible steward of the public’s dollars, spending 92% of its budget on programs to help end homelessness.
The Community Shelter Board’s 16th Annual Celebration, Together Rebuilding Lives hosted more than 770 guests on June 2, 2010. Attendees were energized by the stories of formerly homeless individuals who through the help of innovative programs, Homelessness Prevention and Job2Housing, now have a safe place to call home.

Thanks to the work and support of Presenting Sponsor, American Electric Power and Co-Presenting Sponsor, Columbia Gas of Ohio, Together Rebuilding Lives recognized over $1.2 million in cash and in-kind support from local businesses, foundations, and individual donors. The funds raised help to support the work of the Community Shelter Board and its partner agencies.

“Innovation is the difference between just making sure that a person has a bed, and a blanket, and a roof over their heads versus making sure that each individual has permanent housing.”

— Janet Jackson, President, United Way of Central Ohio

2010 MEL SCHOTTENSTEIN LEADERSHIP AWARD

Barbara Poppe was awarded the prestigious 2010 Mel Schottenstein Leadership Award for her leadership and dedicated work to help ensure that everyone in our community has access to quality housing services. The annual award recognizes individuals or organizations who have a deep and far-reaching impact; have demonstrated commitment, caring, innovation and leadership in the battle against homelessness; and have demonstrated a vision of a better tomorrow for all people.

In her 14 years as the executive director, Barbara made the Community Shelter Board a national model. Under her leadership, CSB developed Rebuilding Lives, a strategy for addressing long-term solutions to homelessness. Rebuilding Lives has reduced the use of family shelters and helped thousands of people move into safe, supportive homes. In late 2009, Barbara left CSB to accept a federal appointment to direct the United States Interagency Council on Homelessness, where she is leading America’s national response to homelessness.

2011 TOGETHER REBUILDING LIVES
